

▲ False Advertising ▾

While in Fort Worth, you decide to go shopping. However, after going up and down both sides of the main drag in the retail district, you fail to find any of the things you actually wanted. You forget the names of the places you visited, and you had meant to write down their addresses so you could complain about them on Yelp...If only you had some other contact information for these stores...

[Note: this puzzle uses location-specific information. You will not need to cross Dartmouth Street or Massachusetts Avenue, as shown in the map on the right.]

You were looking for...

- an alcoholic
- a charity gala
- Claude Lévi-Strauss's writings about human societies
- the elixir of youth
- a fuel efficient engine
- a moralistic storyteller
- a place to sit
- a robotic pet
- a self-absorbed flapper
- a serving of a frozen dessert
- some miniature baked goods
- something to drive on
- a way to resolve a minor dispute
- a wild hoofed mammal
- your mobster friend from Springfield

236334	34735	7283368
268767656443	363837 21	732 2233
2767	439	7625 7277 72477677
32479 28242267	564669 2722537	874
328 8697	7266	9473 78779

