

Old McDonald Had an Agricultural Cooperative

During your visit to a local agricultural cooperative, one of the farmers stops you to ask for your help. It seems he has too much livestock to handle! (Not that they will keep quiet either!) Old MacDonald's friend will be coming by later to take a pair of each off his hands, but meanwhile, he has a task for you. Somehow, you need to get the rest of the animals into their pens. You notice that some of these critters are somewhat... unusual to have on a farm, but you decide to keep your mouth shut.
