

ESPIONAGE!

In an effort to make sure that “their” hunt was the most fun and the most challenging, Phlogiston and Azote resorted to spying on each other and disclosing some of the confidential information about the other team’s puzzles. (In two cases, they just gave away the whole answer! Just put it on your answer sheet – those puzzles weren’t solvable anyway.) We tried everything to make the surveillance stop, but to no avail. The good news is that we now think we have the solution, and you can help bring both sides together and bring an end to the subterfuge.

You can get Ether’s meta puzzle when you have four answers on this answer sheet.
